Subhash Chandra Bose was Indian freedom fighters and the cause of Indian freedom. He was known as Netaji. He was the President of Indian National Congress (INC) from 1938 to 1939. He attempted to get rid of British rule in India during World War II with the help of Nazi Germany and Imperial Japan. Netaji's attempt was partially successful. He was also recognized as the person who founded the Azad Hind Army or Indian National Army with the help of Japan in 1942. Subhash Chandra Bose was born on 23 January 1897 in Cuttack and died in a plane crash in Taiwan in 1945. But many Indians believed that he didn't die that time. The Government of West Bengal submitted many pieces of evidence that he was not alive after the plane crash.

On this occasion of birth anniversary of, Subhash Chandra Bose we conducted the programme regarding his work done. All Head of the department were present during the programme. #### REPORT

Savitribai Jyotirao Phule (3 January 1831 – 10 March 1897) was an Indian social reformer, educationalist and poet. Along with her husband, Jyotirao Phule, she played an important role in improving women's rights in India during British rule. Phule, along with her husband founded the first girls' school in Pune run by native Indians at Bhide Wada in 1848 She worked to abolish discrimination and unfair treatment of people based on caste and gender. She is regarded as an important figure of the social reform movement in Maharashtra. Savitribai and her adopted son, Yashwant, opened a clinic to treat those affected by the worldwide Third Pandemic of the bubonic plague when it appeared in the area around Nallasopara in 1897.

The clinic was established at stern outskirts of Pune, in an area free of infection. Savitribai personally took patients to the clinic where her son served them. While caring for the patients, she contracted the disease herself. She died from it on 10 March 1897 while serving a plague patient.

Pune City Corporation created a memorial for her in 1983.

- In 2015, the University of Pune was renamed as Savitribai Phule Pune University in her honour
- On 10 March 1998 a stamp was released by India Post in honour of Phule

On this occasion of death anniversary of Savitribai phule, we conducted the programme regarding her work done in the reformation of society during british rule. All Head of the department were present during the programme. We started our programme by lamp ceremony. Head of the department of civil engineering Prof. I. M. Jain, has given great speech by enlightened on the life of Savitribai Phule, talking about her struggle with the society and importance of girl child, their education, and importance.

REPORT

The government has decided to observe 26th November as 'constitution day'. On the day in 1949, the constitution was adopted which came into force on January 26, 1950 marking the beginning of a new era in the history of India. This will be a tribute to Dr.B.R.Ambedkar, who played a seminal role in the framing of the Indian constitution as the chairman of the drafting committee of constituent assembly.

Our Department has organized a small programme to enlighten some of the major constitutions of India. The Constitution of India signifies the sovereignty of the people. India's Constitution, a unique document, sustained democracy in India. The Constitution expressly guarantees every citizen important fundamental rights, which may be subject to only certain restrictions. These rights include the ability to freely speak and express oneself; the freedom of conscience and to profess, practice, and even propagate a religion; basic protections against arbitrary arrest and detention by authorities, and various cultural and educational guarantees. Through its unprecedented abolition of untouchability, the Constitution serves as a powerful emancipation proclamation ending centuries of caste-based discrimination and social exclusion.
